Kentucky Windage

(By P. W.)

Although nobody asked me, I'm going to say it anyhow: next Tuesday I'm going to vote for the Wendell Ford-Julian Carroll team for Governor and Lieutenant Governor and I hope you will too.

Why? Because they are Democrats and we live in a strong Democratic section. Because they are both West Kentuckians (Ford from Owensboro and Carroll from Paducah) and because we live in West Kentucky. Because Ford is the Lieutenant-Governor and Carroll is Speaker of the House, and this experience gives both of them the edge on their opponents. And because a lot of us down here know both of these men personally and think they are square shooters and will give us more for our money.

And Wendell Ford, my friend, did us one tiny little favor a couple of years ago. While we were hanging on the edge of our seats watching the State Legislature see-saw back and forth on the slow-time versus the fast-time question, wondering whether or not Fulton was going to be on one time and South Fulton on another, wondering whether or not we would be in the god-awful mess down here we had ever seen, Wendell Ford, as Lieutenant-Governor and presiding officer of the Senate, cast the tie-breaking vote that put us on "fast" time and kept us all from getting into bedlam down here.

Does it pay to have good friends in high places? Think that one over! An Eastern Kentuckian would have reversed the matter.

This week, for the first time in years, we are changing our editorial page around a little. Instead of the weekly poem, we are beginning a photo feature dug up from our files, which we believe will have a wider appeal. We will begin with unidentified photos, and ask any of our readers, if they will, to please call or write us what information about the picture they can supply. And, instead of regular "editorials", our various columnists will be expressing their respective opinions in their columns, which amount to "editorial opinion" anyhow.

One feature that we would like to expand... with your help... is the "Letter to

The observance of national holidays on Mondays, regardless of the traditional dates, always revives old feelings I had when it was first decided that that practice would be followed. You see, George Washington and I have shared birthdays for as long as I can remember. Imagine my surprise the first time I looked on the calendar to see February 22 marked as "Traditional Washington's Birthday." The previous Monday had been marked "Observance of George Washington's birthday."

Now that George has this sort of "floating" birthday, I feel that my own birthday moves around, too. Lawmakers sometimes show slight consideration for the little man's feelings. Not that I'm anti-long weekends. But it does seem that these things can be taken a bit too far for the sake of convenience.

OOPS!!!!

Recently someone commented on a rather costly mistake made in a newspaper advertisement. The comment brought to mind several printing errors I have come across. Some aren't printable (although they did get printed!). One of the most amusing didn't appear in a newspaper. Rather, it found its way into our church bulletin, which was one reason it was so funny. Our church had just remodeled the dining room and had planned a dinner. The announcement, as it appeared in the bulletin, read: Come and enjoy dinner with us in our new sinning room.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT

Well, I guess what the young man said at the Rotary luncheon a few weeks back is true. When called upon for an impromptu speech by Cooper-Patterson, band director at Fulton City Schools, one of the band members put it plainly: We're going to get new uniforms this year because my mother is treasurer and she said we will.

Anyway, I understand that the uniforms

An early morning crowd turned out Thursday to welcome Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford, a candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket. Greeting him as he started his day-long helicopter tour in West Kentucky are: Jim Butts, First District Democratic coordinator; Charles Thomas, superintendent of Fulton schools; Mr. Ford; W. P. Burnette, president of the International Banana Festival and Dan Taylor Fulton County co-chairman for the Democratic party.

Flood Plain Report Outlined At Meeting

Approximately 100 persons, about 100 less than the expected turnout, lunched at the Park Terrace Tuesday at noon and heard Col. John V. Parish of the Memphis District Army Corps of Engineers, explain the flood plain information booklet compiled by the U. S. Army during the last several months.

The study, concerning the Harris Fork Creek and the South Fulton Branch, was specially prepared for the cities of Fulton and South Fulton, to aid in flood damage control, at a cost of $25,000.

Col. Parish described the study as "technical information designed to eliminate use of flood plains." Pointing out that "floods are caused by nature, but flood damage is caused by man," he explained various preventative measures. Specifically, Col. Parish suggested that the information regarding probable flood heights be used in determining the elevation of newly constructed buildings. He also advised the use of the flood plain information in deciding home and business locations.

In the introduction to the report, it is explained that two phases of the Fulton-South Fulton flood problem have been included. From the report:

"First, it compiles a record of the largest known floods in the past on the two above-mentioned streams (Harris Fork Creek and South Fulton Branch). Second, it deals with probable future floods--the Intermediate Regional and the Standard Project Floods."

Col. Parish defined, as does the report, Intermediate Regional Floods as those that have an average frequency of occurrence once every 100 years. This means that every year there is a 1% chance of a flood occurring here.

Standard Project Floods occur more rarely and are considerably larger than past floods.

The report includes maps, profiles, and photographs illustrating the flooding that has occurred in the area, and the flooding that could occur in the future under present conditions. Col. Parish emphasized that improvements made on the streams would change elevations contained in the report.

One such improvement project, now under consideration in Vicksburg, Mississippi, would involve $2,813,000 and the paving of channels through the urban and rural areas of Fulton and South Fulton. After approval there, the project will be sent to Washington for Congressional approval and funding.

Col. Parish warned that this could involve a long period of time, hence, the flood plain information should be utilized for development in flood plain areas now. "Act on the information contained in this report," he recommended.

The report states that the cities of Fulton and South Fulton are located in the upper portion of the Harris Fork Creek drainage basin. Harris Fork flows through Fulton and continues in a southwesterly direction to its confluence with the North Fork Ohio River approximately ten miles downstream. South Fulton Branch flows westerly through South Fulton to its confluence with Harris Fork Creek.

A story in last week's issue of The News on the joint meeting for the presentation of the study done on the Harris Fork Creek, contained a misleading statement. It stated, "No local expenditure is required."

Actually, when the channel improvement in Fulton and South Fulton is initiated, the cities will have to acquire right-of-ways, which will involve some expenditure.

An estimation of the cost is not now available, however, Fulton City Mayor Nelson Tripp speculated that "no appreciable amount will be involved, especially in view of the protection that will be afforded by the project."

Wendell Ford 'Copter Tour Begins Here

Wendell Ford, Democratic candidate for governor, launched his helicopter tour of Western Kentucky this morning by walking down Fulton's Lake Street, shaking hands and chatting with a crowd of enthusiastic supporters.

The 9 a. m. appearance here was the first leg of a tour that will take Ford into eleven first district cities.

Ford told the Fulton crowd that, "No part of our nation exceeds Kentucky in natural beauty, the hospitality of its people and the romance of our history and traditions."

He continued, "All these factors combine to make tourism a great potential industry for our state." Ford pledged to work to develop this potential for Kentucky as governor.

Ford concluded: "We can develop this great natural resource for the pleasure of our visitors and for the pleasure and profit of our homefolks. This my administration will do."

The tour was coordinated through the campaign chairman in each county on the schedule. Dan Taylor, Brodie Creed, and Earl Taylor are Fulton County co-chairmen.

Dog Warden

James Martin, Fulton County's dog warden informed the Hickman Courier on Monday that he is no longer employed as turnkey at the Fulton County jail.

He stated, that there had been some misunderstanding about his employment there and that now he is devoting full time to the dog warden's post.

CONFERENCE CHAMPS.

The Fulton Junior High team has become county conference champs after an undefeated season. Their record stands at 5-0.

City, State Elections Capture Attention Of Voters Tuesday

Next Tuesday is election day in Kentucky, and voters will be asked to select a full slate of candidates from the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor on down.

Citizens of the city of Fulton will also be asked to select four commissioners from the list of eight on the ballot.

In addition, Kentucky citizens will be asked whether or not they favor amending the state constitution to provide for a homestead exemption for owner-residents who are 65 or over.

Locally, there was a flurry of campaigning among 13 candidates for City Commissioner before the primary September 18th; since the primary, there has been no apparent activity whatever. The eight candidates selected on the September 18th primary include four incumbents. The entire slate on next Tuesday's ballot includes (in the order they will be listed): Bob Craven, Charles Robert Bennett, Lorene Harding, Gilbert DeMyer, J. D. Hales, Charles Gregory, Richard N. ("Dick") Armstrong and Paul Kasnow.

State-wide and locally as well, the race between Democratic Candidates Wendell Ford and Julian Carroll, versus the Republican team of Tom Emberton and Jim Host has occupied the spotlight for the last several weeks. Both sides have active headquarters here and both have spared little expense in seeking to publicize their candidates issues. Statewide, an edge is conceded the Ford-Carroll team because of their greater experience in State government.

The American Party has its own slate in the races, although its candidate for Governor, William Smith, has been overshadowed by the intensity of the Ford-Emberton race.

Likeliest contestant to win on the American Party slate might well be William Casey, candidate for Railroad Commissioner. Casey, who hails from Wickliffe, is an experienced railroader while his Democratic opponent, George Ford of Hickman (who won over incumbent Wayne Freeman in the primary) lacks any public office experience whatever and was acknowledged to have been placed on the ballot as a joke.

Ford, who says that he was put on the May primary ballot by his good friend and guardian Waudell Yarbrow, won an upset victory over veteran legislator, and the incumbent Wayne Freeman of Mayfield. Appearing on the May primary ballot as George A. Ford, his victory came as a great surprise to many Hickman and West Kentucky voters.

The West Hickman resident says that if elected, he will open an office in his neighborhood and that Mr. Yarbrow will serve as his administrative assistant.

Fulton County Jaycees are going to make a real exciting day for voters who turn out to vote for their favorite candidates on Tuesday, November 2.

A huge, delicious Harper's country ham will be given away at the end of the day's voting to some lucky voter. Registration slips will be handed out at each of the county's 16 precincts. The registration booths will be located more than 50 feet away from the voting booths in order not to violate any election laws.

The Jaycees revealed that the project is intended to get out a large vote on election day. No partisanship is involved in the civic project, they said.

Fulton Co. Ties For 4th Place In State Drive

Fulton County tied with huge Jefferson County for fourth place in contributions in the Heart Fund Drive for Kentucky. The 1971 drive in Fulton County netted a total of $2,460,73, yielding a per capita contribution of 24.2 cents.

Charles Ross, field director for the Western Division of the Kentucky Heart Association made the announcement, citing Fulton County for its high ranking among the 120 counties in Kentucky.

County leaders who made the Drive such an overwhelming success for 1971 were: Mrs. Fred Stokes, Jr., of Hickman, Fulton County chairman; Mrs. Robert T. Peterson, Fulton, Fulton City chairman;

Hickman Rosettes, sponsors of the Heart Sunday Campaign in Hickman; Mrs. Richard Adams of Hickman, Cayce Special Events chairman; Jim Whipple of Hickman, Hickman Business Girls chairman; and Mrs. Charles Poyner, Hickman, the Hickman Coffee Day chairman.

Postmaster Identifies Areas To Receive Overnight Delivery

Postmaster Joe Treas, amplifying on a new mail service program recently announced by Washington headquarters, today identified local areas which are to receive overnight delivery of first-class mail originating within the Fulton area.

These areas include the following: 370-372, 382, 383, 420, 421-422, 424, 467-477, 629, 638, which are Zip Codes served by Nashville, McKenzie and Jackson, Tennessee; Paducah and Bowling Green, Kentucky; Evansville, Indiana; Carbondale, Illinois and Sikeston, Missouri.

Postmaster General Blount on August 26 unveiled the Postal Service's new goal of overnight delivery of local area first-class mail deposited by 5:00 p. m.

"The Postmaster General has pointed out that this program will affect more than half of all first-class letter mail sent in the United States," Postmaster Treas said. "So customers of every post office in the country will be benefitting from the new service goal."

Substantially more than half of the 52 billion pieces of first-class mail handled annually are for delivery in the city where deposited or in nearby communities.

The areas outlined today by Postmaster Treas are those within which next day delivery will be provided for Zip-Coded first-class mail deposited by 5:00 p. m. on weekdays in the Main Post Office or in Collection Boxes at points where collection times are shown before 5:00 p. m.

The Postal Service has set October 31 as the deadline for achieving the 95 percent goal.

IN THE FINALS

The South Fulton Junior Devils will play in the Obion County Elementary Conference Bowl, with a 4-1 record for the season. Tentative date for the championship game is November 4.

Daliah's The Name, Prize Winning's The Game

By Betty Higgins

At a time when most flower enthusiasts are putting their gardening tools away and turning thoughts away from their tulips and roses, Neal Ross is already planning and ordering bulbs for next year's crop of daliahs.

Mr. Ross, who just returned from a flower show in Memphis with 37 ribbons, a silver tray and a "Best in the Show" award, makes flowers his year-round hobby.

The daliah bulbs aren't planted until the first week in June, but Mr. Ross will soon be ordering his choices for that crop from Holland and several places in the United States.

The garden behind the Ross home on the Dukedom-Latham highway contains about 300 varieties of the daliah. Some of the late-blooming flowers (they usually bloom in July), still look beautiful, at least to an untrained eye. But as soon as the first frost falls, Mr. Ross says the stalks will be leveled and the roots will be dug up and labeled for use next year.

Mr. Ross explained that he "lost" his favorite, "All Dutch." But "I plan to get it back next year," he said. He and several friends, also daliah-lovers, trade varieties, and they will provide him with sprouts from "All Dutch."

Mr. Ross is a member of the American Daliah Society, started working with daliahs five years ago. A man who was in the hospital in Michigan where his brother was a patient discussed the flower with him, then sent him "forty of his best bulbs," according to Mr. Ross.

Previously, his main interest had been in iris, and Mr. Ross concedes that they are still his main interest. In the meantime, however, he's doing well with his second interest.

Last year in the Memphis show his daliah "Dash" took the prize for "Queen of the Show." In addition, he brought home 27 ribbons from the exhibit. In his words he "tore the show apart." As a matter of fact, those who run the show are going to make sure Neal Ross doesn't walk away with the show again. "They told me this time that I'll only be able to show one type of each flower, even though the rules say I can show three," he said.

Earlier this month he brought home a blue ribbon, two red ribbons, and one yellow ribbon from an Evansville Show.

Mr. Ross has been licensed to sell the bulbs for 15 years, but since flowers are mostly a hobby, he doesn't operate a greenhouse. However, people find out about his many varieties and he frequently makes sales.

Only a few days ago, a woman from Memphis who judges flowers all over the United States, visited the Ross garden. "She said our flowers were as good as any she had seen anywhere," Mr. Ross said. Evidently she was more impressed than that, because she took about 75 of Mr. Ross' daliah bulbs with her.

The "green thumb" really doesn't believe there is such a thing. He maintains that flowers mostly require "a lot of work, work, work." He does have some help in that department, though. Mrs. Ross displays a broad knowledge of daliahs, too.

Both talk about the "Prime Minister" from Holland and decorative, cactus or semi-astounding to an amateur is their ability to point to any one of the 300 varieties and tag it either formal or informal. They will add Washington to their ordering list.

The new passenger train service, Am-track, has discovered a curious fact on ticket prices: it costs $4.10 more to take a train from Miami to Chicago than it does from Chicago to Miami.

That ought to be simple to explain: one way is downhill, the other uphill.

have been ordered, even though the fund still lacks several hundred dollars. So if you haven't jumped on the "bandwagon" yet, there's still time to do so with a contribution.

ABOUT TIME

One Hickman Countian observed that the men especially are glad that the centennial is over. They welcome the return of the short skirts. You know, there should be some kind of exchange program set up whereby counties could exchange centennial paraphernalia. Second hand garb would be more authentic anyway.

SULLIVAN SLIP

Ed Sullivan is usually a rather somber man, but several Sunday nights ago when he was introducing a woman in the audience, he cracked up along with the audience and probably thousands of viewers. Instead of saying that Miss So-and-So was now starring at . . . he said, "now starving at." Welcome to the club, Ed.

MOVING UP

Charlie Thomas, superintendent of city schools, took time out from his busy schedule to take me on a tour of the new high school which is nearing completion. I envy the kids who will be moving out there around Christmas time. My own high school isn't terribly old, or that outdated, but modern schools are so much more cheerful and colorful.

Allow me, to give you a sneak preview of what you'll see when you visit the school's open house in a few weeks . . .

Color is the first element you notice as you walk into the building, and you run into it all through the structure. The lockers are done in bright blues, reds, and yellows. No longer do planners rely on the drab greens and browns that don't show dirt. Instead they apply liberal coats of bright, light colors. The new high school sports Fulton City's school colors in the gymnasium, hallways, and several other areas.

Having earned my teaching certificate, I learned first-hand about the influence of surroundings on the performance of students. Cramped, constantly supervised quarters tend to stifle students and make them rebellious and restless. One feature in evidence in most modern schools is the unsupervised, open study area. This area in the new high school, "the commons" will no doubt be one of the most frequented of the school. Located off the stage area and next to the library, it will provide students with a relaxed atmosphere in which to study or converse. The school has several other innovative features, but I'd rather not spoil anyone's visit by giving a complete description.

HYACINTHS TO FEED THY SOUL

If of thy mortal goods thou are bereft,
And from thy slender store two loaves alone
to thee are left,
Sell one, and with the dole
Buy hyacinths to feed thy soul.

Do You Remember This?
From Our Picture Album

They're reading a book called "Friends Near and Far," but these little lassies look like they haven't got one anywhere around close. Seems like this photo was taken on the first day of South Fulton school one year. Which year? And who are the students? It would also be nice to let us know of their whereabouts now. Will you?

FULTON'S

Library Corner

BY LUCY DANIEL

This week let's take a brief look at some adult and juvenile books that have been recently received from the Department of Libraries in Frankfort.

IN THE TRAIL OF THE WIND by John Bierhorst (1970). A story reaching back thousands of years unfolds in this unusual collection of native American poetry, translated from over forty languages representing all the best-known Indian cultures of North and South America. A cross-cultural anthology—the first of its kind—it brings into focus the similarities between peoples as widely separated as the Sioux and the Aztec, the Cherokee and the ancient Maya. Here are omen, battle songs, orations, love lyrics, prayers, dreams, and mysterious incantations. Beginning with the origin of the earth and the emergence of man, the sequence proceeds through the rituals of birth, love, war, and death to the shadowing of the Conquest, the days of despair, and, finally, the apocalyptic visions of a new life. Detailed notes are supplied for each of the 126 selections, several of which have never before been translated into English. Illustrated with period engravings and equipped with a glossary of tribes and languages, IN THE TRAIL OF THE WIND provides a fascinating and valuable introduction to a body of literature that deserves to be more widely known.

THE STREAM by Robert Murphy. (Adult fiction) This is the story of a natural, unspoiled, two-thousand-acre tract of woodland and stream, of the animals and birds that have their habitat there, and of Ohmstead, a lonely man who draws deep pleasure and spiritual sustenance from the contemplation of these things. When the land is threatened, and the life within it to a great extent destroyed, due to ignorance, uncaring, and simple greed, Ohmstead feels that a part of the best part of himself is also destroyed, and, quietly but deeply angry, he determines to do something about it. "Why had he thought he could sit uselessly in the sun? He would join them, the conservationists, and the more militant organization that wanted to take him in, the better." THE STREAM is in many ways the most mature and thoughtful book by Robert Murphy, the widely read author of an impressive list of works.

THE LINK BOYS by Constance Fecher (J. fiction) If all started with Joshua, though of course neither Tom nor Uncle Jeremy knew him at the time. If Josh hadn't stolen the lord's purse, thrust it into Tom's unsuspecting hands, and run off, Uncle Jeremy never would have been arrested and Tom wouldn't have had to save him from hanging. But then Tom never would have met the Link credibly lucky. It was Henry, the daughter of an actress with the King's Company, who suggested that he find work as a linkboy, lighting the wealthy home after the theater. And it was working as a linkboy that Josh found Tom again and the neers have made in the channel of the Mississippi River there.

The citizens claim that the change ruins the economic security and scenic value of their community, which in the heyday of the river was an important place.

Latest in the civic moves to convince the authorities that the change should be revoked before it is too late is a resolution passed by the Hickman Woman's Club Friday, October 26.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
NOVEMBER 5, 1926

Fulton High will battle Paducah tomorrow in the fourth meeting of these two teams, as in previous football games, close scores have prevailed (14-2, 14-9) and tomorrow's game is expected to be a dandy, the team and about 100 rooters will arrive at 9:45 on "Whisky Dick" and the game will start at 2 p. m.

Throngs of masked boys and girls paraded on downtown Fulton streets last Saturday night celebrating Halloween. Little real mischief was done throughout the city, with the usual soap being freely used all over downtown windows. This was very thoughtful of the revelers, since some of the windows needed soap badly and today, (after washing) look cleaner than they have all year.

Farmers are still donating teams and men to get east State Line graveled, and work is progressing nicely on this volunteer project.

Members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church sponsored a benefit tea Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Snow on Third Street. About 100 registered. Mesdames Bettie Roper, Belle Gossum, and Miss Mary Lee poured coffee while Mesdames Gus Bard, Floyd Irby, Will Stephens and Dave Lowe served.

Mrs. Smott Morris entertained Wednesday at bridge, with Mrs. Jake Huddleston winning a vase for high and Mrs. Martin Nall cutting consolation for a crystal lemon squeezer.

The Chestnut Glade orchestra practiced at Mr. B. A. Golden's last Sunday and quite an audience gathered to enjoy the music.

Political Confusion and Promises

A COLUMN BY WIN WHITNEL

POLITICAL CONFUSION AND PROMISES

Confusion created by the myriad of promises made by the candidates for governor remind me of the episode of how one voter voiced his confused opinion.

This chap prepared a huge campaign button with four big bold block letters, BAIK printed on it.

Walking down the street wearing this over-sized campaign insignia, he met a friend. The friend, puzzled and amused, blurted out: "What in the world do the letters BAIK stand for on that billboard you are wearing?" "These letters spell out my sentiments; Boy Am I Confused," explained the voter. "But you dope, you don't spell confused with the letter K," shouted his friend. "Well that just goes to show you how confused I am," was the reply.

In the present campaign we have been bombarded with promises of removing the sales tax on take-home groceries, creation of more jobs, taxing minerals, inaugurating a lottery, reorganizing the state government—just to mention a few.

The General Assembly meeting in 1972 will have the final word in determining how many of these promises can be turned into reality. One thing is fairly assured, if taxes are removed on one item they will be put on something else. So don't expect any tax reduction or relief.

If you are confused, perhaps your best bet is to vote for the candidate who can best persuade the state legislature to help him keep some of these promises. Your worst bet is to stay away from the polls and not vote. That is a vote for apathy and indifference.

A TIMELY PRAYER

Many decades ago my grandfather, Rev. T. J. McGill, a retired Methodist minister, was appointed chaplain of the Tennessee State Senate. His only duty consisted of opening each session of the senate with a prayer.

A grandson said to him one day, "Grandpa, what do you pray about in the state senate?" The old gentleman stroked his long white beard and answered: "Well son I'll tell you. When I stand up on that platform and look over the assortment of senators standing before me, I pray for the people of Tennessee."

TOUCHES OF PHILOSOPHY

A former local wit and telegraph operator voiced this summary of the life of man. The three great events in a person's life are birth, marriage, and death. The reason marriage comes in the middle is to make death easy.

One of the greatest mistakes you can make in life is to be continually fearing you will make one.

Folks who never do any more than they get paid for, never get paid for any more than they do.

God will not look you over for medals, degrees, or diplomas but for scars.

WILL YOU VOTE TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2nd

Cast your influence. Vote. The candidates for governor in the present election have been trying for many weeks to influence you to vote for them. Here is your opportunity to accept or reject their attempts to influence you.

When you stand in front of the secret voting booth or in front of the voting machine, you are the one who is doing the influencing. It's your chance to have your influence recorded. Also you can exert your influence on the other office seekers and in the constitutional amendment appearing on the ballot.

Your one vote does count. A mere 91 votes decided the election for governor of Minnesota in 1962. In 1963 Louie Nunn was defeated by Ned Breathitt by 13,157 votes. If 5 voters from each of the 3,027 precincts had been interested enough to vote, the results could have been different. In the presidential election of 1960 the decision was made by only 166,256 votes.

Don't dig up that embalmed excuse, my vote won't matter or mean anything. Of course it does. Exercise your privilege of having a voice in our democratic way of life. Cast your influence. Vote next Tuesday.

Letters To Editor

Fulton, Kentucky

October 23

Editors, THE NEWS,

FULTON! Where ARE You? Once upon a time, as the story goes, this was a thriving town, no holds barred. You, and most of us remember these days, not too long ago.

Today every major industry has either left Fulton or cut back its operations. To mention a few: Swift & Co., Illinois Central, Ferry-Morse Seed, Slegel, Melrose Chemical, Pepsi Cola, Coca Cola, Culp Wholesale, and so many other places on Lake Street and other streets they would be too numerous to list at this time.

What have we gained? One blue factory which may employ 70 people. That's what I call strike. Don't misunderstand me; I thank God for all blessings.

The whole thing boils down to this: WHY has Fulton been left out? Union City and Mayfield have all the industries with far less land available, less transportation connections, and all other things that would seem nice to an industry looking for a Southern location.

To put it down in cold facts, there is something wrong with Fulton's approach to industry. It must be in the high echelons, as the common person never talks to these people.

People have been taxed for airports, civic centers, horse riding, schools, sewers, water, housing, etc., all in the so-called interest of attracting industry; but to no avail.

Let's wise up. Where is the trouble? Let's find it, and correct it, and get moving.

Dear Betty Higgins:

Seeing the picture of the old Latta home in the October issue of the News, brought back some recollections of my early childhood.

About 1909 or 1910, I was a flower girl in the wedding of Miss Latta and Mr. Hardin in that home. It was a beautiful wedding. The music was furnished by a quartette, my mother, Mrs. Jim Thurmond sang alto and I think Mrs. Eva Weeks, wife of Dr. George Weeks of Water Valley sang soprano. Am not sure about the male singers, but have a vague feeling that my father sang bass. I still have the dress my mother made for the occasion, white batiste and rows of val insertion, with pink ribbon.

We lived in Water Valley until 1922 and our Sunday afternoon diversion was walking on the railroad, a mile and a half west to Pleasant Hill or two miles east to Beauregard Cemetery.

Please tell Mr. P. W. that I also enjoy reading the "45 Years Ago" Section. I have seen several items about Sebra and the band he directed.

Sincerely yours,
Roberta Thurmond Evans

Woman's Club Celebrates 50th Birthday At District Meeting

A 50th anniversary of anything, a marriage, a business, or a county, is a much-celebrated occasion and a time for reminiscing. The Fulton Woman's Club, which this year celebrates that milestone, did both at the District Woman's Club meeting held in Fulton last Thursday.

The main table at the luncheon featured a three-tiered birthday cake, and a special attraction—the first president of the Fulton Woman's Club, Mrs. Harvey Caldwell.

Mrs. Caldwell remembered the time 50 years ago when members of eight clubs chose her to lead them in a newly formed Woman's Club. That was in 1921 and she was only 19 years old.

"It was a big responsibility," she told the first district Woman's Club representatives, "but with everybody's help, I made it." Mrs. Caldwell had the help of 235 members.

There is no comprehensive history of the early club, other than what can be gleaned from the annual publication, or yearbook. Scrapbooks of newspaper clippings and old photographs help fill in the picture.

The 1957-58 yearbook contained "A Brief History of The Fulton Woman's Club," written by Mary Nelle McDade Wright.

It lists the eight component clubs as: Sans Souci, Twentieth Century, Fortnightly, Shakespeare, Musical Magazine, Philomathean, As You Like It, and Thimble Club Art. The clubs were federated in 1922.

The newly organized club was divided into several departments: Health, Community Service, Library, Music, Literature, Art, and Home Economics. Today, the club has three departments, Home and Garden, Drama and Literature, and the Junior Department.

The history continues to sketch some of the early projects of the club, such as the public library and the club home. According to the club history, in 1936 the Woman's Club held open house and "burned the note" and "announced that the Fulton Woman's Club was completely free of debt."

A newspaper clipping in an old scrapbook reports the club's first meeting and organizational meeting. The first meeting was held Tuesday afternoon, December 16, 1921, at the Commercial Club rooms on Church Street. Twenty-five persons were present and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Harvey Caldwell, president; Mrs. Charles Binford, first vice-president; Mrs. Charles Karmire, second vice-president; Mrs. Pomp Binford, third vice-president.

Miss Helen Browder, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Ernest Fall, recording secretary; Mrs. Will Whitnel, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. M. Nugent, treasurer; and Mrs. A. T. Smith, auditor.

Another clipping describes a December 8 luncheon in 1921 held at the Usona Hotel. Mrs. R. G. Reynolds of Paducah, president of the State Federation, Mrs. J. E. Warren of Mayfield, secretary of the Federation, and Mrs. R. K. Johnson of Clinton, district governor, were guests.

That was 50 years ago. Thursday, about 150 women enjoyed coffee, a business session conducted by the district governor Mrs. George Winn of Marion, and contest exhibits shown by the club members.

Mayor Nelson Tripp, Reverend William G. Adams, and Reverend James W. Best were on hand to extend a welcome to guests during registration. And Mrs. Joseph C. Evans, KFWC state president, spoke during the morning session.

Luncheon guests listened to piano and violin music by Mrs. Nelson Tripp and Mrs. Hunter Whitesell, which in keeping with the anniversary theme, featured songs popular in the early years of the Fulton Club.

During the afternoon session, new District officers were in-

Chestnut Glade Club Meets, Celebrates 49th Anniversary

The forty-ninth anniversary of the organization of the Chestnut Glade Home Demonstration Club was observed when the regular October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Valda Simpson. Special recognition was given to Mrs. Ada Rhodes who has been a member for the forty-nine years. Several others have been active members for more than forty years.

Many valuable lessons have been received to help make better homes during the participation in the many lessons that have been given.

The meeting was opened by the president reading the thought for the day, "Life is a mirror that gives back as much as it receives."

Mrs. Danny Wheat gave the devotional using Genesis 1 with thoughts of the beauty of the earth and particularly the beauty of Tennessee in this season.

Mrs. Valda Simpson gave a report from the county council meeting. She reported that the Clubs of the county would share in providing Birthday Parties for the residents of the two nursing homes as they did last year except that they would exchange assignments. She also reported that the Christmas luncheon would be at the University Student Center, December 2 at 10 a.m.

The reading Project leader presented a selection of books and encouraged that the next few months would be a most desirable time to finish the requirements for the reading program.

The garden project report was carried over due to unavoidable circumstances. The report will be given at the next meeting.

The craft report which was carried over from last meeting was given by Mrs. Harvey Vaughan substituting for Mrs. Jim Burke. She gave a demonstration on crocheting beads.

The clothing leader, Mrs. Jimmie Westbrook, gave many useful tips that she received at the recent countywide demonstration given by Mrs. Grace Prince in Dresden. She advised that a new sewing machine should be used when sewing knits and that all zippers and hemming tape should be shrunk before stitching.

Mrs. Jeter Wheat conducted the refreshments. Refreshments were served to twelve members, six welcomed visitors: Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Reams, Mrs. Matheny, Mrs. Simsand, Mrs. J. T. Simpson, and three children.

Mrs. Laverne Owensby's number matched the door prize number.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Jeter Wheat.

Show Features Crafts Made By Homemakers

Christmas is only a few weeks away. If you would like some ideas to help you with your Christmas decorations, the Fulton County Homemakers invite you to visit their Christmas Decoration and Craft Show Sunday, November 7, from 1-5 p.m. at the Fulton Community Housing Assembly Room.

The show will include crafts and decorations made by members of the 16 Homemakers Clubs and is exhibited for the public's viewing.

Mrs. Charles Powell, County Crafts Chairman, Mrs. Carl Mikel, Mrs. Leo Newberry, Mrs. Edward Hailey, Miss Alice Sowell and the Clubs' Crafts Chairmen are in charge of the program.

Dan Taylor, co-chairman for Fulton County, made the announcement.

THEN AND NOW... Mrs. Harvey Caldwell, first president of the 50-year-old Fulton Woman's Club and Mrs. Christine Batts, present head of the club, pose behind the three-tiered birthday cake at the district luncheon held in Fulton last Thursday.

NEW LEADERS... Holding the district governor's gavel is Mrs. James Austin, of the Lone Oak Woman's Club newly elected governor of the first district. Mrs. Robert Hayes of the Paducah Junior Woman's Club was elected vice-governor at the district meeting here last week.

Lunch Honors Mrs. Berger, Mrs. Radcliffe

Mrs. Ben Berger and Mrs. Hugh Radcliffe, of Oklahoma, sisters of Mrs. Louis Weeks, were honored with a luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Bob White.

Co-hostesses for the occasion, Mrs. White, Mrs. Harvey Caldwell, in absentia, Mrs. Eugene DeMyer, and Mrs. Frank Beadles presented the honorees with gifts.

Guests, including the honorees, the hostesses, Mrs. Louis Weeks and Mrs. G. J. Willingham, enjoyed a three-course luncheon. Lovely arrangements of roses and mums decorated the house.

After the luncheon, two tables of bridge were played, with Mrs. Gilson Latta being high scorer.

B&PW Club Has 'Fun Party' To Observe National Week

The Halloween motif was used throughout for table and room decorations. Hostesses, Ruth Grooms, Helen Allen, Ann Gore, and Stella Jones, served cookies and fresh apple cider to those attending. After the festivities were over, several members went to the "Moonlight Madness" sale and displayed their finery.

The local club concluded its week of activities with a County Bazaar, at the Community Center Saturday. Many small gift items, candies, sandwiches and baked goods were sold as the club's money-making project of the year.

At the drawing Saturday night, Carl Pirrie of Water Valley won the country ham, and Zuaneta Phelps' name was drawn for the kitchen knife set.

The club would like to thank all those who participated in any way.

As part of the observance of National Business & Professional Women's week, the local B&PW Club held its fun party Thursday night, October 21, at the Community Center. For the past three months, members have purchased "sight unseen" articles of

Ann Landers

— Your Problems Bring Answers —

Dear Ann Landers: I am 23, my fiancé is 24. His mother is the problem. She is 42 years old and looks very good for her age. (She should, she has had everything lifted, and I do mean everything.)

My fiancé's mother has a thing about running around half naked. She does her housework in a bikini (winter as well as summer) because she says it gives her freedom. If she is wearing a housecoat for dinner it is never buttoned all the way. She manages to be falling out, just a little. Last night she cooked supper in a bra and half-slip and sat down to the table in that outfit, only she tucked a napkin in her bra.

My fiancé has two brothers, one 20, another 17. I've heard them all suggest to their mother that she put some clothes on but she ignores them. Why is she like this and what can be done? —Skin Flick At Home

Dear S.F.: She is like that because she is one of those seductive Moms who should have had a little counseling a few years ago. What can be done? Nothing, probably, except a concerted effort by the three boys to get Madame Pompadour to cover up at least when guests are present.

Dear Ann Landers: My girl friend's parents raised her like she was Princess Margaret. She knows how to dress, look pretty and make social conversation. That's where her talents end. She takes no interest in anybody or anything but herself. No housework, no cooking, no public service, or heaven forbid, a job.

I think I love this girl and would marry her if I thought she would change and be a helpmate instead of a rock around my neck. I am writing this letter from Vietnam and will send it to the Memphis Commercial Appeal. I hope you will answer in the paper. Mom clips your columns and sends them every week. I'll be home in 60 days and I need to know your opinion before I leave here. What do you think, Ann? —G.I. Joe

Dear Joe: I think the letter was not written by you, but by your mother. It came directly from Memphis.

If your mother has described the girl accurately, you've got some tall thinking to do, Good luck.

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to say a word to friends and relatives who think they are being helpful, but who do more harm than good. After 14 years of marriage my husband and I agreed to a legal separation. In our crowd "legal separation" is viewed as the forerunner to divorce. What our friends do not know is that we are trying for a reconciliation.

If they would leave me alone and not try to "make me feel better" by telling me how lucky I am to be rid of the dog — that they've known for years he was a bum — etc. — I'd appreciate it. I am aware, also, that some of my "well-intentioned" friends have been going to my husband and telling him how lucky he is to be rid of me, that everyone has known for a long time we were not making it. Then they offer to fix him up with a sex bomb.

Real friends do what they can to get separated people together—they do not try to finalize the split. —Sour Apples In Appleton

Dear Apples: Solve your own problems by making the subject of your separation "off limits." I suspect you are one of those people who should have heeded the old Scottish proverb, "Don't spit in a well. Ye might wan' to drink from it."

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35¢ in coin with your request.

Haws Memorial

WHEN YOU'RE 101... you get a birthday card from the president of the United States. Mrs. Irene Boaz looks a little bored with it all, but the staff at Haws Memorial Nursing Home, where Mrs. Boaz is a resident, is quite excited. They even baked that big birthday cake for a party held Thursday.

Mrs. Irene Boaz celebrates her 101st birthday with an official greeting from President and Mrs. Nixon. "Miss Irene" was born October 28, 1870 the daughter of a Methodist minister, Jeremiah Moss. She married James T. Boaz in 1896. He worked for the railroad and they made their home near Walnut Grove and attended the Walnut Grove Methodist Church. They had two children, James T. Boaz, Jr., who died as an infant in 1907 and a daughter, Narcissa Boaz who died in 1916. Mrs. Boaz's husband died in 1907 and she has been a widow for 64 years. "Miss Irene" taught school for a number of years and later became a supervisor for an orphanage in Mississippi. After her retirement she made her home in Fulton, until 1963 she maintained her own home. She was active in the First Methodist Church, enjoyed gardening and yard work.

Mrs. Boaz has one younger sister, Mrs. Susan Baucen, who lives in Winchester, Ky. Mrs. Hardy Sanders, of Fulton is her niece.

"The Witches Halloween Carnival" The Witching Hour, 10 a.m., Thursday morning in the Haunted Diningroom. Free tickets admit ghosts to the carnival. Many gay spirits are expected to take in the entertainment and refreshments. Music will be furnished by Mrs. Henry Underwood and Montell Tripp. Side shows include Fortune Telling by Gypsy Sara, the Oddity Museum, Freak Show, Madam Marvel.

Charge Against Weatherspoon Is Reduced

James Weatherspoon, charged with assault with a deadly weapon in a cutting scrape October 22 at Joy Lynn Cafe, appeared in South Fulton city court Tuesday. The original charge was reduced to one of disorderly conduct and Weatherspoon was fined $72.50 in connection with the charge, according to Elmer Mansfield, director of public safety in South Fulton.

Weatherspoon had been charged with cutting Jerry Coach with a pocket knife, following an argument over the purchase of a beer at the cafe. Coach, a resident of Rosenwald Drive, was treated at the Fulton Hospital for facial lacerations and dismissed.

The case of Ray Wilson, charged with public drunkenness, was postponed until Tuesday, Wilson, 34, of Martin, Route 3, was bound over to the action of the Obion County grand jury in January, on a charge of possession of marijuana, after a hearing Saturday in Union City.

Wilson was arrested Friday, October 22, at Workman's Cafe on East State Line. He was charged with public drunkenness and possession of marijuana, which was found in a plastic bag inside his right boot. He made bond of $500 on the drug charge.

Doug Goodman

Doug Goodman Qualifies For State Contest

Doug Goodman, Hickman, Route 2, will represent the first district in the state "Mr. Teenage Farm Bureau" contest November 11-14. Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Goodman, competed against representatives from other first district counties Monday night at Kentucky Dam Village Theatre to win the district title.

He will enter competition with boys from 10 other districts at the state convention. Goodman, who was judged on leadership ability, scholarship, achievement, and personality, attends Fulton County High School where he is president of the award-winning FFA Chapter.

Mrs. Richard Adams, chairman of the Fulton County Woman's Farm Bureau, said that she heard "some good reports on Doug. We have hopes for a winner at the state convention," she said.

Mrs. Adams also praised the other contestants from Fulton County. They included Debbie Castleman, "Farm Bureau Queen" contestant, and Susan Caldwell and Joyce Chamberlain, variety show contestants. The state winner will go on to the national competition in Chicago in December.

Fulton Native Is Promoted To Division Manager Slot

A top level change in the Lake Charles, Louisiana division of Gulf States Utilities Company was announced October 17, 1971 by Floyd Smith, president of G. S. U.

Joseph E. Bondurant, formerly operating superintendent for the division, has advanced to the division manager's position. Bondurant has been operating superintendent for the past two years and has worked for Gulf States in Lake Charles since 1967.

A Gulf States employee since 1957, he started out as an engineer in the Company's Beaumont Transmission and Distribution department. Head-vanced through a number of positions and served as operating supervisor in Lake Charles prior to moving up to operating superintendent.

Born in Fulton, Kentucky, he attended Georgia Tech, where he received his bachelor's degree in electrical engineering. He also has completed the University of Michigan's Public Utilities Management program. Bondurant is a member of the Lake Charles Rotary Club and on the board of directors of Artists Civic Theatre and Studio.

Married to the former Sarah

Garner of Atlanta, Georgia, he and his wife have two daughters, Alyson and Tammy. The family attends St. Luke United Methodist Church in Lake Charles.

VOTE YES

Let's Keep Them In Their Homes!

"Cast me not off in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength faileth."

— PSALM: 71:9

Only ONE amendment proposed to the state's constitution will be on the ballot for Kentucky voters November 2: THE HOMESTEAD TAX REDUCTION AMENDMENT!

We urge you to vote YES, for its passage.

The amendment will exempt real property from taxation up to the amount of $6500 of assessed valuation for persons 65 years or older owning and living in their own homes. Thousands of aged, on fixed income, are losing their homes as they grapple with the problems of higher prices and higher taxes. Aged persons receiving public assistance have their monthly benefits cut as much as $17.00 as a "penalty" for owning their homes!

St. Paul's Cathedral, London, England

DEVOTION has been the guiding power in all great work. It is the binding tie between brothers. It knows no race . . . no order . . . no color . . . yet it is the foundation of His great teaching . . . and the light that shines through the windows of His Cathedrals. Find devotion in your Church, and you will nurture devotion in your soul.

610 saw St. Paul's Cathedral begun—961 found it destroyed by flames. Again in 1086, and 1561, 1666 it was ravaged by fire, and not until 1675 was the present structure started.

At ordering time, Mr. Ross joins three other daliah growers in the area. Usually they try to order different varieties so they will be able to trade. Jackie Work and Huel Wright of Dukedom and Mrs. George Cook of Water Valley, constitute the remainder of the "club." About 90 percent of their bulbs come from Holland. Seeing so many flowers brought the question, "Don't you have a lot of friends around blooming time?" Mrs. Ross quickly answered "yes." But Mr. Ross says he's in the daliah "business" for pleasure, not for money. He even donates flowers to the parks in Memphis. "Just so I can pay for the bulbs, I'm happy," he smiled.

Eight SF High School Students Nominated For Who's Who

UTM Students Practice Teach Here In County

Eighty-two seniors at the University of Tennessee at Martin are student teaching this fall quarter in elementary and high schools in West Tennessee and West Kentucky.

Each candidate for the bachelor of science degree in education is required to teach one quarter in order to qualify for graduation and for the state teacher certification examination.

The student works under the supervision of a UTM faculty member in cooperation with an experienced teacher in the elementary and high school to which he is assigned. Fifteen hours of college credit is awarded for the quarter of student teaching.

UTM students teaching in Fulton County are:

Kathy P. Bucy of Martin and Judy M. Foley of Martin are student teaching at South Fulton High School.

Peggy J. Isbell of Hickman is teaching at Union City East-side.

Fulton County FFA Chapter Receives Nation-Wide Acclaim

Receiving nation-wide acclaim, the Fulton County FFA Chapter has received the highest award emblem given in the FFA Building Our American Communities (BOAC) project at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City.

Announced by National FFA President Dan Lehman, Fulton County won second place in the Central FFA Region among 13 states and a Gold Emblem Award nationally.

Fulton County was placed in the top 20 chapters across the United States for community development activities. Some 5,000 chapters competed for the awards on the local level and 61 competed nationally with a Georgia chapter winning first place.

In a telegram from President Richard M. Nixon, the gold emblem chapters were praised "for the innovative and active involvement in helping to develop rural America into communities of which we can all be proud to be a part." Accepting the award in an assembly of 15,000 delegates to the National Convention were Doug Goodman, chapter president; David Adams, Fulton County BOAC representative; and FFA advisor James M. Everett.

Local delegates to the 44th National Convention were David Adams and Pat Lattus, Bobby Bloodworth and Max Wilson were alternate delegates. Doug Goodman represented the Purchase Federation FFA district, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. James M. Everett.

BOAC is sponsored and financed nationally by Farmers Home Administration, and Eli Lilly Endowment Fund in cooperation with the National FFA Foundation.

Fulton County received the Area and State Awards in June at the State FFA Convention qualifying to represent Kentucky in national competition.

FFA President Doug Goodman reports, "Our goal for 1972 is to be the national winner in the BOAC project, and with the active, cooperative involvement of the community we will have Fulton County recognized nationally among industrial leaders, businessmen and political figures. Join us in reaching this goal!"

Trailer Law Rescinded At Obion

The town of Obion, which only last summer passed an ordinance to prohibit the parking of mobile homes within the corporate limits, rescinded the action in a meeting earlier this week.

Voting to permit parking of mobile homes in the city were Dale Glover, Damon Morris, M. C. Thompson, Lee Victory, Herbert Duncan and James R. Hatchett. Councilman McCoy Thompson passed.

Under the new rules, mobile homes may now be parked with written permission from the mayor and any three councilmen.

White Enters Hickman Race

Dr. Richard White, lashing out at those who were critical of his state of health, has reversed himself and declared as a candidate for re-election as mayor of Hickman.

The longtime city politician, who has served a number of terms as a city councilman, said his decision to re-enter the race was prompted by "the concern of many citizens for experienced leadership in city government."

In replying to critics who said his withdrawal from the race was due to his health, Dr. White stated: "I bitterly resent the judgments being made that my decision to withdraw from the race was for reasons of health. As a physician, I am better qualified than any one I know to diagnose my health."

Dr. White, who has served only two years of a four-year term, was elected mayor without opposition two years ago. Shortly after his announcement that he would not be a candidate, a citizens committee made a public statement in the Hickman newspaper asking him to reconsider his decision.

In choosing to re-enter the race, the Hickman mayor cited the necessity to continue in office to complete the many municipal programs in progress. He especially cited the drainage program in West Hickman as being well under way.

Test Dates Revealed For Academy Prospects

Any young man in his senior year of high school who is interested in an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy should write his parents and congressmen as soon as possible to request a nomination to Annapolis. For immediate information on the types of nominations available or for answers to questions about admission to the Naval Academy, they may write or call Lt. Cdr. Robert W. McWilliams (USNR Ret.) at 898-3941.

The U.S. Naval Academy offers a student a well-rounded educational program leading to a bachelor of science degree and commission in the U.S. Navy or Marine Corps. A wide range of engineering fields including aerospace, electrical, marine, young men between the ages of 16 and 21 who are interested in applying to the U.S. Naval Academy for the class entering in June 1972 should take their College Entrance Examination Board or American College Testing Program tests prior to Jan. 15, 1972. The last ACT test date is Dec. 11 and in the case of the CEEB, on Jan. 8. Systems and chemical engineering are augmented by degree programs in such areas as oceanography, operations analysis, languages, economics, and history. A total of 26 academic majors are available to midshipmen with more than 400 courses offered.

Two Counties Receive Grants Totaling $48,000

Carlisle and Hickman counties will receive a total of $48,000 in grants from the Federal Emergency Employment Act of 1971.

Carlisle will get $29,500 and Hickman $18,500 for the funding of hired ambulance drivers and attendants and health assistance programs in the areas. Volunteers have been staffing ambulances in both counties prior to the grants, it was reported.

The funded program will afford first preference for employment to veterans of military service in Vietnam or those who have served as volunteer ambulance workers in the past, officials said.

Automobiles kill 50,000 or more in the U.S. annually.

6th ANNIVERSARY VALUES FROM Magnavox

CELEBRATING
ELECTRONICS
SINCE 1911

...on each of these fine
consoles with new and improved
TOTAL AUTOMATIC COLOR system!

Your choice of seven styles... all as magnificent to see off as they are on! With Magnavox TAC you can kick the annoying TV tuning habit, for it automatically keeps pictures sharp and flesh tones natural. There's no more jumping up and down to adjust controls... and there's no more green or purple faces. TAC remembers to give you a perfectly-tuned picture—with the right colors—instantly and automatically—on every channel, every time! The new ultra-rectangular and ultra-bright Matrix Tube—unlike many others—has a black, opaque substance surrounding each color dot—resulting in far better picture contrast, sharpness and far more brightness. And—the new Magna-Power chassis, with predominantly solid-state components, assures better performance and greater reliability. UHF/VHF Remote Control is optionally available—also at great savings. A. Contemporary—model 7152. B. Early American—model 7154. C. Mediterranean styling—model 7156. Also in Danish Modern, French and Italian Provincial and another Early American styling.

County Cotton Harvest Moving Into High Gear

By JOE MARTIN
Cotton harvesting operations in Obion County moved into high gear last week and the price of cotton is causing farmers to smile when they compare this year's cotton prices with 1970 prices.

A number of farmers are reporting a bale of cotton to the acre on the first picking. But the trouble with our cotton this year is the excessive rank growth which is causing some of the lower bolls to rot and is delaying the opening of the cotton. A number of cotton fields in the Mason Hall area were defoliated last week. A good killing frost would be beneficial to local cotton farmers.

Demand remains strong for current ginnings. Prices are firm to slightly stronger than last week. Offering prices range from 800 to 825 points above loan values. Most farmers are selling at prevailing prices but a few are holding for more money. A few ginner-buyers are paying 28 cents per pound across the scales with a discount of one cent per pound for grass or bark reductions. Many gins are accepting the cottonseed in return for ginning costs. Seed prices are quoted at around $55.00 per ton.

TWIN CALVES
Calvin Stover at South Fulton is real proud of a Polled Hereford cow that has had two sets of twin calves 10 months and 27 days apart. All four calves are still living and getting extra special care from Mr. Stover. The first twins were heifers and the last twins are bull calves.

One unusual thing about twin calves that a lot of farmers do not realize is that if one twin is a heifer and the other a bull—the heifer is called a freemartin. A freemartin is a female calf usually sterile and is twinborn with a male calf.

I don't know what the odds would be against a cow having two sets of twins in one year but it would be real high. I was telling Dr. Robert Latimer about this and he told me a cow on his farm a few years ago had two sets of twins in one year.

Dresden Car Dealer Charged With Murder

SOUTH FULTON, Tenn. — Bill Hogg, a Dresden, Tenn. used car dealer, has been charged with murder following the death of Robert B. Moss, 35, early last night.

Moss, a former South Fulton resident, died Wednesday at a Memphis hospital as the result of a gunshot wound in the head. He was shot with a .22 caliber pistol at a Dresden trailer court late Monday afternoon.

Weakley County Sheriff Jerry Riggs said the shooting occurred following an argument between Hogg and Moss. Moss was employed as a salesman by Hogg. Hogg was taken into custody and held at the Weakley County Jail at Dresden and charged with felonious assault.

A preliminary hearing on the assault charges was postponed today following Moss' death and the charge was changed to murder, according to deputy sheriff Doyle Turberville.

Following an autopsy in Memphis, Moss' body was taken to

Kentucky Horses Get Vaccinations

FRANKFORT, Ky. — As a result of the vaccination of more than 150,000 horses, mules, donkeys and ponies in the state, Kentucky's equine population has been declared "safe" against sleeping sickness, state veterinarian L. G. Worthington, said.

Final figures show that 157,017 of the animals have been given the federally-financed vaccine against Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE).

Northington estimated the number of equines at 170,000.

Attention: Mr. John Alden

Gentlemen:

November 2, 1971 is a significant date for all Kentuckians. On that date Kentucky voters will have an opportunity to chart a progressive course for our Commonwealth in the years ahead. I think they are going to do just that. They are going to elect Wendell Ford as Governor, Julian Carroll as Lieutenant Governor, the entire Democratic State Ticket and an overwhelming majority in both Houses of the General Assembly.

Because I believe so strongly in the promise held out to Kentucky by the Democratic Party and its candidates, I want to assure you that I shall be campaigning as vigorously as I can to bring about the victory.

The Ford-Carroll ticket will provide the vigorous, far-sighted and energetic leadership our Commonwealth so desperately needs to overcome the problems now facing her. With that leadership confirmed by Kentucky voters, the Commonwealth will surely take its place in the front rank of States in the years to come.

Best wishes,

Sincerely,

C. D. Perkins

September 9, 1971

Dear Fellow Kentuckian:

November 2 is a very important day on the calendar. On that day we decide who will be the leaders of our Commonwealth for the next four years.

Wendell Ford and Julian Carroll head a ticket of capable and experienced leaders. Thelma Stovall, Ed Hancock, Drex Davis, Mary Louise Foust, Lyman Ginger, Wendell Butler, and Frances Jones Mills are devoted to serving the people of Kentucky.

Wendell Ford, Julian Carroll, and their running mates will fight for the rights of the people of Kentucky.

The real issue in every election is people. We owe it to ourselves and to all the people of Kentucky to elect Wendell Ford, Julian Carroll, and all our fine Democratic Candidates. They'll do the job for us in the next four years--let's do the job for them on Election Day.

Sincerely,

Romano L. Mazzoli

To The Voters of Kentucky:

It has been my pleasure to work with the Democratic candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, Wendell Ford and Julian Carroll, in the interest of promoting Kentucky through the years.

They are dedicated men, who are knowledgeable and experienced in the affairs of State Government where they have served in responsible positions of leadership. Wendell Ford and Julian Carroll would give all Kentuckians the efficient, honest and progressive administration which is basic, if we are to move Kentucky forward in the crucial years ahead.

Sincerely yours,

Frank A. Stubblefield

On November 2 the voters of the Commonwealth of Kentucky will have an opportunity to cast their votes for an outstanding group of candidates who will, upon being elected, render excellent service and bring honor and distinction to our Commonwealth.

Our candidate for Governor, Wendell H. Ford, will make an outstanding Governor. He has the necessary legislative experience, ability and training to fill this office with distinction and will establish a superb record as Governor of our State.

Julian Carroll, in addition to his legislative experience, is an eminent lawyer and is well prepared to serve as Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky.

Dr. Lyman V. Ginger is recognized throughout the United States as a great educator and will serve splendidly as Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Mrs. Frances Jones Mills is a tireless worker and has clearly demonstrated this fact down through the years. She is admirably qualified to serve as Clerk of the State Court of Appeals.

Mary Louise Foust is a noted professional auditor who has proved her ability during her service as State Auditor and will continue to do so upon being reelected to this post.

Thelma Stovall is loved by everyone in Kentucky and has established outstanding records in all of her assignments and will, in my opinion, render the same fine service as Secretary of State.

Drexell "Drex" Davis is well established in politics in Kentucky and is recognized throughout the state as a dedicated public official. He will perform the duties of State Treasurer in an excellent manner.

Wendell P. Butler, our nominee for Agriculture Commissioner, has a solid record upon which to run and will again carry out the responsibilities of this office most effectively.

Ed Hancock is one of Kentucky's great lawyers and will serve as Attorney General in such a manner as to soon become recognized as one of our outstanding lawyers to serve in this post.

We should get the vote out and elect our entire Democratic ticket consisting of all of those named above, together with all of the Democratic candidates for the House of Representatives and the State Senate.

Vote the straight Democratic ticket. We will have a great victory on November 2.

Combs endorses Ford at Democratic rally

By BILL BILLITER
Courier-Journal Staff Writer

Former Gov. Bert T. Combs last night told a cheering Democratic fund-raising rally in Louisville that Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford is a man of "ability" and "integrity" and that he unqualifiedly supports Ford for governor.

Ford defeated Combs for the Democratic nomination for governor in the May 25 primary, and since that time, Combs has appeared on stage with Ford several times, but never mentioned him by name.

"I didn't say specifically I was for Wendell Ford, but I say it now," Combs told those attending the $25-a-plate "Rally Round the Rooster" rally at Louisville's Convention Center.

The audience roared with applause as Combs mentioned Ford's name. Combs wryly noted that Ford had once been his executive assistant "and there have been times when I feel I trained him too well."

Combs said Ford "is a tremendously hard worker, and take it from me, he's a hell of a campaigner." Combs then warmly praised Ford, saying: "He has experience and ability; he has integrity, and what is very important, he is the choice of Democrats across this state."

"I introduce to you the man who is going to be your next governor, the honorable Wendell Ford."

Ford thanked Combs for the "overwhelming" introduction, then proceeded to deliver a speech that sharply criticized Republican Gov. Louie B. Nunn, GOP gubernatorial nominee Tom Emberton and the national Republican Party.

In denouncing "Nunn and Tommy," Ford predicted that Democrats in Kentucky would sweep this year's election and win "by no less than 100,000 votes" on Nov. 2.

Ford spoke at the fund-raising dinner at Convention Center after a $100-a-person reception held at Stouffer's Louisville Inn. During the dinner, House Speaker Julian Carroll, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, and all other Democratic candidates for state-wide office were presented to the audience.

Carroll delivered a fiery speech roasting the Republican administration, and his speech was frequently interrupted by applause and shouts of "Give 'em hell, Julian."

Ford's speech also assailed the Republican administration. Ford said Nunn had prohibited the Kentucky GOP from having an "open" primary last spring.

"We saw, during the primary, Republicans denied their own freedom of choice at the polls, a denial that places the Republican nominee under single domination," said Ford.

"My opponent (Emberton) owes his nomination not to the people, but to the special interests of the Nunn administration. My opponent will be obligated and responsive not to the people, but to the special interests of the Nunn administration."

"Wendell Ford's obligation will be to every Kentuckian," Ford added.

Ford said a Democratic victory in Kentucky would signal to the nation the beginning of a "dump Nixon" movement in 1972. Ford criticized President Nixon's economic record, saying "the little people were first in a squeeze and now they're in a freeze."

In predicting a 100,000-vote victory in the gubernatorial race, Ford said, "I can hear the thunder! I can hear the rooster crow!"

Tax Relief From Republicans?

NO WAY

Reduce Auto Tags? NO!

Louie Nunn Raised
Them From
$5.00 to $12.50

Question
Are there any service charges or fees, such as for auto license tags, that you think should be increased or decreased?

Answer
EMBERTON — "No, I know of no license fees or any others that I'm recommending any change in."

Reduce Income Taxes? NO!

Question
"Do you believe any changes should be made in the state's present income-tax arrangement, such as possibly abolishing exemption of the amount paid in federal income tax?"

Answer
EMBERTON — "At this point in time, I see no reason why there should be any necessity for it (changes in the state's income-tax arrangement)." He said there are no changes that he would advocate.

City - County Revenue - Sharing? NO!

Question
Do you favor state government's sharing some of its tax money with city and county governments, regardless of fate of proposed federal revenue sharing?

Answer
EMBERTON — Under our present structure, I don't see how it (state-local revenue sharing) can be worked out."

All questions and answers are printed verbatim from an interview with the candidates in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

New Taxes? YES!

Question
Do you support any new tax, such as a severance tax?

Answer
EMBERTON — "I favor the levying of a severance tax on coal, oil and natural gas which is mined in Kentucky." He said Kentucky is rapidly becoming the nation's No. 1 coal producer and a severance tax on coal "would give an expanded source of revenue as we move up the ladder of coal producers."

State employees top 30,000 mark again

By WILLIAM BRADFORD
Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The total number of state employees has climbed past the 30,000 mark again, about 300 more than when Gov. Louie B. Nunn ordered a freeze and cutback in jobs two years ago. As of the quarter that ended June 30, Personnel Department records show 26,455 permanent full-time employees, 2,187 seasonal full-time workers and 2,085 others, for a total of 30,727. The "other" category covers temporary, emergency and part-time (both permanent and seasonal) employees.

For comparison, the figures for June 1969—shortly before Nunn ordered his freeze and cutback—were 25,599 permanent, 3,208 seasonal and 1,588 other, for a total of 30,395.

And when compared with four years ago—during the final year of former Democratic Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's term—the latest figures show a 2,738 increase in total number of employees. Broken down by category, the 1971 figures show 2,836 more permanent employees than in 1967, 785 fewer seasonal workers and 687 more other employees.

Every four years there are charges that the incumbent governor is handing out jobs as favors to drum up support for the candidacy of the man that governor would like to succeed him.

The total number of state employees now as compared to four years ago reflects an average increase of 2.5 per cent a year, but the boost over last year's total of 28,774 represents a 6 per cent jump.

The seasonal and other jobs are those most often mentioned as being handed out for political gain since the control over them is not so strict as over permanent full-time jobs under the merit system.

But the 4,272 employees now in such jobs actually number 100 fewer than was the case four years ago.

The high point in employees in those two categories was 4,796 in 1969, when the only statewide political race was for auditor. In that contest, Democrat Mary Louise Foust defeated James Thompson, the Republican Nunn had appointed to the post upon the death of Clyde Conley.

The total number of seasonal and other

(not permanent or full-time) employees dropped from 4,370 in 1967, Breathitt's last year, to 3,066 in 1968, Nunn's first year. Then it went to 4,796 in 1969, dropped to 3,436 in 1970 and rose to 4,272 this year.

The total number of permanent full-time employees for that period went from 23,619 in 1967 to 23,005 in 1968, 25,599 in 1969, 25,416 in 1970 and 26,455 this year.

The decline in all categories for 1968 was a result of mass firings of Democratic employees—up to around 4,000—during the early months of Nunn's Republican administration for alleged political activity. The state Personnel Board subsequently ordered various state agencies to reinstate more than 100 or those on the ground that their alleged political involvement had not been proved.

FRANKFORT, Ky.—State agencies so far have hired 262 persons under the federally financed Emergency Employment Act designed to fight unemployment, the program's state director said yesterday.

However, the state has not yet received information on an additional $3 million in job grants for cities and counties announced Monday in Washington, Director Harold Newton said.

1970: It was a very bad year for many state farmers

By JAMES R. RUSSELL

The Courier-Journal Farm Editor

A farm income analysis by University of Kentucky agricultural economists shows that 1970 was near disastrous for many of the state's farmers.

The corn blight, higher feed costs, low hog prices, unfavorable weather and the 10 per cent burley tobacco allotment cut were tagged in the new UK study as the major factors contributing to the greatly reduced profit. These factors sent many farmers to their savings accounts or to lending agencies.

The report dealt with 319 farms in 65 counties. The farms, with an average investment of $350,000, are enrolled in the Kentucky Farm Analysis Groups which are directed by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The final figure is what economists call the net management return, or the "reward" for the farmer taking the risk of being in business for himself.

It showed that income for each of the farms in the survey was just a little over $3,600 in 1970 compared with an average of $14,000 in 1969.

Here's how the program works and the procedures used in determining farm profits:

Earnings are figured on net farm income, to which is added the value of farm products consumed by the family, the value of livestock, grain and other farm products on hand at the end of the accounting period and depreciation of assets along with any other changes in total assets.

From that figure, interest on the assets is subtracted at a rate which would be equivalent to the money the farmer would receive if he sold out and invested in sound common stocks. Also deducted in the record keeping is a charge of $300 per month for family labor.

The economists say that the net management return added to the salary for family labor may be compared with the salary a non-farmer gets from a factory or office job.

Economists point out that in 1970, the six areas in the state involved in the study ranged from 4.91 per cent to 2.12 per cent return on invested capital and managerial ability of the farmer. By comparison, wise investment in common stocks would have netted 7 to 8 per cent return, the economists said.

They add that the farmers in the analysis group are among the top half in efficiency and management ability. Farmers with less efficiency and management ability are in "sad trouble" and can only hang on as long as their capital lasts, the economists said. If land values don't continue to rise, giving these farmers added credit base, the marginally efficient farmer will be in serious trouble, the economists said.

The report shows that Bluegrass farmers were hardest hit in 1970. Twenty-seven farms in the study showed a net management loss of $6,180 for 1970 compared to a loss of $4,282 for 1969.

The 10 per cent cut in burley tobacco allotments was a factor in the lower profits. The cut, the report says, counter-

State's mine safety record called worst in the nation

By JOE WARD

The Courier-Journal Staff Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky.—The director of the federal Bureau of Mines told Kentucky coal mine operators here yesterday that the commonwealth's coal mine safety record is "the worst of any major coal-producing state in the nation."

The director, Dr. Elbert F. Osborn, called the fatality rate in Kentucky's small coal mines "deplorable," and said the state's larger coal mines "have not been doing well either."

He said Kentucky's underground mine fatality rate through the first eight months of this year is 1.64 per million man-hours, which he said is "getting close to twice the national rate of .94" and "approaches three times the rate for all underground coal mines" in West Virginia.

Osborn indicated that the weight in the high over-all rate comes from a 3.47 per million man-hours rate in the small coal mines, but he noted that the state's large mine rate is 1.64, itself higher than in nearby coal states.

The bureau director blamed the high fatality rate on miners' "failure to adjust to changing conditions and failure to follow time-honored safe-mining practices."

Osborn's audience, members of the Kentucky Coal Association attending their annual business meeting, did not react outwardly during the speech but at least one man challenged his figures privately afterward.

Robert Holcomb, a Pike County coal operator and spokesman for area coalmen, said the Kentucky Mines Department had told him it doesn't have man-hour figures for the first eight months

$445,911 bid to repair KY 15 section never formally opened to the public

By ANNE PARDUE

The Courier-Journal Staff Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The state Highway Department yesterday received one bid—for $445,911—to resurface a six-mile stretch of KY 15 in Perry and Knott counties that has not been officially opened to through traffic.

And Highway Commissioner B. E. King repeated that the state hopes to collect the "whole amount or a portion of damage" caused by coal trucks tearing up the road, either through negotiation or lawsuits.

If the damages cannot be collected, payment by state and federal governments will be committed once a contract for the bituminous resurfacing is awarded, King said.

King said a decision on yesterday's bid is not expected until next week. The bid was submitted by Adams Construction Corp. of Pikeville.

Don Duff, deputy commissioner for administration, said the department's legal and engineering staffs are currently accumulating information preparatory to filing suit for damages done by coal trucks on the six-mile stretch of KY 15.

Duff said the department has asked the Department of Motor Transportation for accumulative listings of citations issued to overweight vehicles to determine who has been hauling and for whom.

Further, Duff said a department attorney and engineer inspected the road

Wednesday to obtain their personal views.

Duff said no lawsuit has been drawn since the department is still in the information-gathering stage. One factor in a suit would have to be an allegation of what damages have occurred, he said.

Duff said yesterday's bidding involved 6,068 miles of KY 15 from near Jeff to near Red Oak Branch, of which 4 miles is a new section and not involved in the resurfacing.

The six-mile section originally was paved two years ago, and had not yet been opened to traffic this summer because of work being done by the Army Corps of Engineers in connection with an impoundment on Carr Fork. But the six mile Jeff-Red Oak section had been opened to local traffic, which includes mine-to-tipple coal-truck traffic.

BIG PAY-NO WORK

PSC aides work at home

By LIVINGSTON TAYLOR
Courier-Journal Staff Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The state Public Service Commission (PSC) has eight administrative assistants, including the sister of chairman Harold Kelley, assigned to job locations in their hometowns and drawing PSC salaries of $5,484 a year each.

Kelley, who was ousted June 30 from administrative control of the PSC by fellow commissioners Joe Travis and Howard Clay, said Friday that he hired the eight to "handle complaints" about the state's 352 utilities, which the commission regulates.

Clay said Friday that he and Travis plan to "take a new look at things" this week.

"I know there'll be some changes," Clay said. He declined to go into specifics until he talks further with Travis, who was out of town for the weekend.

The eight administrative assistants currently on the payroll were hired between April 1968 and February 1970. They are:

✓ Mrs. Beatrice M. Reed, 57, of Ashland, Kelley's sister.

✓ Mrs. Mary Lee Jones, 61, of Elkton, wife of Todd County Judge W. S. Jones. Jones is a Democrat who supported Republican Gov. Louie B. Nunn in the 1967 election.

✓ William R. Adams, 66, of Jeremiah in Letcher County, a former Republican state representative.

✓ Lawrence E. Forgy, 56, of Lewisburg in Logan County, father of Lawrence E. Forgy Jr., former deputy finance commissioner in the GOP state administration and now a University of Kentucky vice president.

✓ Sam H. Sartin, 67, of Willow Shade in Metcalfe County, listed on state personnel records as a state-level U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) official during the Eisenhower administration.

✓ Mrs. Pauline E. Bratcher, 48, of Greenville, widow of W. D. Bratcher. Bratcher, a 1st District GOP chairman, appointed by Gov. Nunn to the PSC in early 1968, died later that year.

✓ James L. Bersot, 57, of Louisville, listed in the Louisville city directory as president of Custom Perma-Gutters, Inc.

✓ Raymond F. Grizzell, 75, of Mount Sterling, listed in state records as a former school-book sales manager.

Mrs. Jones was contacted at her Elkton home and asked what her state duties are.

"Anything that comes up that requires investigation or looking into," Mrs. Jones said.

Could she give an example of her work?

"No sir, not at the present," she replied.

Asked whom she reports to in her work, Mrs. Jones said, "The man in Frankfort, I can't think of his name right now."

Four decline to answer query

Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Bratcher, Bersot and Sartin declined to say what they do in their jobs, referring the question to Kelley.

Sartin did describe how he came to Frankfort to apply for a job and met Kelley in a Capitol Building office in the presence of a fellow Metcalfe countian, Tom Emberton, then an assistant to the governor and now the Republican candidate for governor. Emberton also formerly was a member of the PSC.

"He (Kelley) told me my headquarters would be at Willow Shade, and he would call me when I was needed," Sartin said.

Asked how often he has been called, Sartin said, "I haven't been called very often."

Adams, Forgy and Grizzell could not be reached for comment.

"These people handle complaints and do this and that and the other," Kelley said in a telephone interview from Ashland. "I don't have a big enough staff there (at Frankfort) to handle them. . . . We have 352 utilities to regulate."

The utilities are telephone, electric, gas, water, pipeline and telegraph firms.

As for his sister, Kelley said she "does as good a job as the rest of them."

Asked what she can do in Ashland that Kelley, also of Ashland, could not do, Kelley replied, "She can do a whole lot, just like Louie's sister (Mrs. Virginia Strohecker) works in his office, you know."

"They had five or six. I may have three or four more than they had, but our number of utilities has increased."

(In December 1967, state records show the previous commission had two administrative assistants and five investigators. The investigators were paid on a $25 per diem basis, rather than a straight salary.)

State GOP raises, spends more on election than Democrats

By CHRIS WADDLE
Courier-Journal Staff Writer

Kentucky Republican campaign machinery has raised more money and spent more than the Democrats during the current electioneering.

In required reports filed yesterday (30 days before the Nov. 2 election) with the state Registry of Election Finance, the political price tags looked like this:

The Kentucky Democratic Campaign Committee reported it has received $273,641 in contributions and receipts from such occasions as campaign dinners. Expenditures listed by Democrats totaled $142,618.72.

The Tom Emberton for Kentucky's Governor Committee, which an official of the election finance registry said includes all the candidates on the party's statewide slate, reported $357,855.74 in contributions and receipts. The party has spent $366,128.84—more money than has been taken in.

However, Republicans previously said that since Emberton had no primary battle for the nomination, a surplus in the party treasury has helped meet expenses.

Wendell Ford, Democratic nominee and the state's present lieutenant governor, had to campaign in his party's primary against former Gov. Bert Combs.

In sharp contrast to the major parties, the American Party State Campaign Fund reported receiving $1,015 from contributors—none of whom gave more than $500—and spending a total of $663.45.

2nd member, 'disillusioned,' quits GOP's state committee

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Describing himself as disillusioned with the state Republican administration, a second member says he has resigned from the GOP State Central Committee.

John Sharp, Williamsburg, said he submitted his resignation to GOP State Chairman John Kerr Jr. last Thursday but Kerr said yesterday that he had not yet received it. Kerr declined to comment on the matter until he receives formal notification.

Sharp's resignation comes less than a month after Marshall (Nick) Burlew of Owensboro resigned from the committee.

Burlew said he was resigning because he supported Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford, a Democrat also from Owensboro, in next month's gubernatorial election rather than Tom Emberton, the Republican.

Sharp, in explaining his resignation, said he felt he had been "slapped in the face" by the state GOP administration when "about a couple of months ago they started paying attention to other sides here."

"Instead of letting me call the shots," asserted Sharp, who was Whitley County patronage chairman, "they've been listening to other people."

Specific examples of his being overruled by the administration, he said, were in road placement and transfer of personnel.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn's only comment on Sharp's charges yesterday was that they were "self-explanatory."

The Man Who Proved His Right To Be A Leader

WE WERE looking through our files near presstime this week in search of a suitable picture of Wendell Ford to run in the paper along with the story that he would be in Logan County for yet another campaign visit.

What a file it is . . . What a witness to one man's effort to persuade a people. There he is at a Rotary meeting, chatting away with several fellows while "Doc" Beauchamp looks on with a smile that could only be described as "inscrutable."

Then, here he is again, grinning at a pretty girl who was a winner in the Tobacco Festival Beauty contest. In dead of winter, he's shivering on the platform while the Lewisburg Christmas parade passes in review—the only major politician who foudl his way to the Coon Range in the middle of December. A factory scene flashes up—the back of candidate Ford, arms outstretched across a pile of garments to touch the hand of a Logan woman.

Airport meetings—rather bare and sweeping. The candidate stands beside a little airplane, pensively listening to a faithful friend, usually Doug Shoulders, that persistent and enduring buddy from the Jaycees, or James Milam, in earnest conversation. There's something rather jaunty about those airport pictures. They were in the primary when the running seemed all uphill against the big man—Bert Combs—and there wasn't much money (there has never been) to buy the gas, and the wise boys said the Ford campaign would run out of money and votes before the primary election day. Another set of pictures—at Doc Beauchamp's funeral. Wendell Ford at the edge of the Scene, keenly aware that Beauchamp was joined with Combs, but somehow determined to show his respect to the old party hero just the same.

TURNING FURTHER, there's a picture of Wendell Ford at the Strawberry Festival, just before the primary. It's stuck against a misplaced picture from an earlier visit when they asked him to make a little talk at a Baptist Church. (Did he ever refuse to make a little talk?) Here's another shot. He's walking toward the Courthouse with a serious-faced band of youngsters who are making their debut in politics as his Russellville workers. The candidate is just a few feet away from the barber shop where he won some votes four years ago when he was running for lieutenant governor. . . .

Wendell Ford didn't carry Logan in that race for lieutenant governor, but he almost did—and the votes that he did get may have been the difference in his 1967 victory, for his opponent had expected to win a large majority here. This year, Wendell Ford didn't capture Logan either, but his loss margin was slim, and there was no doubt that in all these visits Wendell Ford had won the hearts of many Logan countians.

Now at last the nominee and standard bearer of the Democratic Party, Wendell Ford comes back to this familiar stumping area the winner of a smashing primary upset and the leader under whose banner the Logan County Democrats have buried their factional hatchets.

He has worked for and earned every vote he ever got in this community. Each fight has been uphill, and his courage and warm personality have brought around more voters in every campaign. In politics, all campaigns are crucial, there is never a minor election for the candidate whose name is on the ballot. But for Wendell Ford, the test of tests is just a few weeks away.

Through perserverance, a dogged determination to get through the politicians and into the hearts of the people, by dent of much hard work, and because he has shown himself a man who doesn't know how to give up, he is returning to Logan County in the closing days of the campaign as a man who has proven his right to the leadership of the party. He will find a warm welcome here, reflective, we are sure, of a hearty vote in November when, most observers believe, Wendell Ford will carry Logan County and earn, at last, that majority for which he has so diligently and gallantly labored.

Man To Man

An appraisal of Wendell Ford by a campaign worker

He is a person who works constantly at the job of getting along with other people and helping them to get along with each other. He goes out of his way to see the other fellows point of view and help bring understanding where there is tension. Although he himself may be able to jump across the chasm that he sees in human relations, he thinks of the other people affected by it and starts to build a bridge of understanding, cooperation and good will.

Radiance and joy are characteristic of this person who has this quality of personality. He is not afraid of fighting, but he is concerned with fighting over things that are trivial and not worth the struggle of the soul. He is concerned of the damage that can come to human personality from an unkind word thoughtlessly spoken. He is concerned of the prejudices that like leeches suck away the life of a nation. He is concerned, but he is concerned with the tensions between races and groups and classes of people. He is concerned, but he is honest and courageous, and so he builds bridges of appreciation, of understanding, and of cooperation.

He works at the job of helping people live together in peace and harmony.

Is there anybody our state needs more right now than this person? Is there any of us who could not work harder at becoming this kind of person?
